

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXVI.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 1897.

NO. 14

Loving Moves Again.

CENTREVILLE, ALA., April 13. Since my last I have left the "pine hills and sand-dreary wastes" of Southern Mississippi for sunnier climes and fairer fields, and hence I have strayed here. This place is about the kind of a town my old home, Liberty, is. Though it has a prospect, a hope, while Liberty has neither, but only an unevented history—but still that old town has two of the best lawyers that God ever made—Boyle and George Stone.

The contract for the M. T. & M. railroad was let at Birmingham last Monday. The said R. R. runs from Montgomery to Tuscaloosa via Centreville; so you see we are on the eve of a great business revival and boom.

This town is on the Cahawba river, which is a fine farming district and the Northern part of the county is in the Birmingham mining district; so you see we have the natural resources to have a town. The road is a certainty for they are already at work on it, and as to our mining territory, that has been thoroughly tested. Coal is being mined extensively, and iron has been, though the factories are now closed.

This climate is also the most delightful on earth. You can bask in the glorious sunlight of Italy, or enjoy the mountain breeze of the Alps almost any day in the year. Even now, while Kentucky is still wearing a sombre winter suit, the full-grown oak leaves are marking the deepening earnestness of spring, and flowers, why, we have had them immemorially.

We notice that the Kentuckians are still amusing themselves with politics, and that the Legislature is still playfully monkeying with Hunter—at the expense of the tax-payers, and that the Courier-Journal still insists that Cleveland would have made an extra president if he had consulted its editorial staff on momentous occasions, and also confidentially affirms that it is the democratic organ of the corn crackers, but with all due candor and reverence for that bold sheet, "we yet believe that the INTERIOR JOURNAL is the truest, the best democratic paper in the grand old Commonwealth. Others may have a larger, more extended subscription list, but will you allow an Alabamian (by adoption) to say that he believes that the I. J. exerts a greater influence over its readers than any other he ever knew."

Enough. It is needless for me to tell you that I am in a democratic State at last. Well, enough for to-day—with love for the I. J., I am

J. W. LOVING

BOBBITT ON SAUFLEY.

When the salvation army commenced preaching on the streets Monday I backed about 14 hours being through speaking. I had not reached Judge Saufley: I want to say here and have the liberty of inserting in the Congressional Globe (alias INTERIOR JOURNAL) a few words for Judge Saufley. He is an able and upright judge, perfectly acquainted with the laws of his country and making them the invariable rule of his decisions, and like Sir Edward Coke, knowing nearly all the law but knowing no lawyer. Most lawyers are dual at most. Judge Saufley is quadrangular. He can state a case and examine a witness as well as the best, draft a pleading like a Martinet, argue a case like a Choate. The humblest citizen can have a patient hearing and correct decision. The most timid lawyer that ever trembled like an aspen before an august tribunal will receive from him an indulgent, patient hearing and correct ruling. The unsettled condition of society requires just such a judge, bold and fearless.

He is as brave a warrior as ever buckled sword. As true a patriot as ever breathed a word. And never did Grecian philosopher with his golden pen True upon the deathless page truth more sage. Than he lays down for men.

FONTAINE F. BOBBIOTT.

M. F. NORTH FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY.

(To the Editor of the INTERIOR JOURNAL.) Dear Sir:—Please announce me as a candidate for county attorney.

I shall not urge any personal claims. I am one of those who think the interest of the democratic party should be considered before that of any individual, and will now say in advance that the wisdom of those who select the democratic candidates dictate the selection of some other person as the democratic candidate for county attorney, I will never be heard to say nay, but will be found in line with the tried and true democracy, working for the entire sick et. Yours truly, M. F. NORTH.

W. H. Brian, of Owensboro, was elected supreme dictator of the Knights of Honor, J. T. Funk, vice dictator, Gus Miller, grand sentinel, and A. J. Hess, grand reporter. The per capita tax was reduced from $1.50 to 80¢.

Over 30,000 Negroes along the Mississippi are destitute.

VICINITY NEWS.

Luther Lucas and wife, of Casey, are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter. The father is 18 and the mother 14.

The Danville Advocate's Penciller is getting up a fund for the flood sufferers in $1 subscriptions and is meeting with good success.

The Richmond Union has an amusing article suggesting certain of its republican friends for certain imaginary offices at fabulous pay.

That New York firm organized for speculation and which has just failed for $2,000,000, seems to have dropped the "s" from the word which defined its purposes.

Lancaster's tax rate is 37 cents, while ours is $1.10 on the $100. But then there is some difference between living in Richmond and a village like Lancaster.—Register.

N. K. Tunis, agent for the Bible College at Kentucky University, sold to John W. Yerkes the Dr. Gill place for $8,225 cash. This is the old Woodcock home. It contains a handsome brick residence and 30 acres of ground and is altogether the most desirable piece of suburban property.—Advocate.

A dispatch from Lawrenceburg says: Judge Carroll gave a red-hot charge to the grand jury concerning the unlawful freeing of turnpikes by the mobs some time since. He deplored the circumstances that allowed such outrages against justice to go unpunished, and said the pulpit, the press and the courts should combine to crystallize public sentiment in the right direction. He especially condemned the latest action of the raiders in trying to control the price of flour by warning the millers and in posting notices darling tobacco growers to raise more than they appropriated.

A dispatch from Williamsburg says: Monday afternoon a black burlap casket lined with white satin, floated down Cumberland river, past the hotel at Cumberland Falls, went over the falls and was smashed to splinters in the voyage. An investigation proved that body-snatcher had been at work in a grave yard five miles above, and was caught in the act of vandalism. The tend had cut the flesh from a cadaver only recently interred, and the wife of the dead man discovered the grave robber. Finding he must be caught or give up the body, the man rammed the flesh he had hooked off in the casket and pushed it over in the river. He then ran and has not been captured.

MCKINNEY.

Our telephone connection will be made in a few days. The largest freight business is done here now in the history of the place. E. J. Tanner has contracted for 150,000 three-pound cans for the Tomato Factory.

Democrats hereabouts, knowing Mr. E. J. Tanner's qualifications, are urging him to become a candidate for circuit clerk and he has the matter under advisement.

Joe Williams and Miss Emma Moore accompanied Winter Wright and Miss Maggie Tabler on their elopement. Miss Maggie is one of our most lovely girls and a favorite with everybody. Mr. Wright will no doubt make her an excellent husband. He is to be congratulated on having won such a prize. They are expected to return in a day or so and as there seems to have been little or no objections, it is thought the old folks will receive them with open arms.

One of the very worst wrecks that have occurred on this division of the C. S. R. R. took place at Kings Mountain early last night. As freight train No. 40 capt. Hutchison in charge, was leaving that station the train broke in two and before anything could be done the rear section of the disconnected train smashed into the front, ditching 12 or 15 cars loaded with lumber, seven with pig iron, etc. A large force of hands worked all night and about daylight had the track sufficiently cleared to admit of trains passing. It was first reported that two tramps were killed, but the report lacks confirmation. The loss to the R. R. will be considerable. No blame seems to be attached to any one.

Paul Genz was hanged in New Jersey for murdering his mistress. Katie Houser, a Louisville girl, employed in Nashville, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid.

Frank Patterson, of Elkhart, Ind., fell from his horse while in a funeral procession and was fatally injured. Two children of W. G. Henry, of Blount county, Tenn., were fatally crushed by a falling limb on their way to a funeral.

A Covington woman attempted suicide by throwing herself in front of a train because her son came home drunk and beat her.

The entire family of John Scott, a Mayfield grocer, was poisoned by eating canned gooseberries. One of the children died.

MATRIMONIAL.

Thomas Hutchinson of Elkton, O., ran away with his step-mother and it is supposed they have become husband and wife.

George Callahan, of Bedford, Ind., shot himself through the heart because his sweetheart jilted him on the eve of their wedding.

Seven days ago, Mrs. E. E. Wall, of Clarksville, Tenn., became a wife and now she has left her husband saying she can not tolerate him in her sight.

John Coulter, son of W. T. Coulter, of Middleburg, and Miss Willie, the pretty daughter of Mr. W. L. Gann, also of that place, eloped to Tennessee and were married.

Mrs. M. Pauline Herard, wife of J. Virgil Herard, the cattle king of the West, has filed suit at Perry, O. T., to set aside the divorce decree granted her husband six months ago. She alleges fraud and asks for $200,000 alimony.

Mr. Winter Wright and Miss Maggie Tabler, daughter of Mrs. Green Moore, eloped to Tennessee Monday night and were married. The groom is a brother of Mrs. P. W. Green and a very clever young man. The bride is as pretty as she is bright and accomplished.

John P. Atkinson, the 16-year-old son of the governor of Georgia, and Miss Byrd, aged 14, were re-married at Chattanooga. The pair had previously eloped and been wedded, but under the laws of Georgia the ceremony was illegal. Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson will reside at the Georgia executive mansion.

Dr. A. H. Wall, of Bourbon, and Miss Ann Elizabeth Smoot, of Mason, were married April 18, 1883, at which over 400 guests were present, but none of the party survive save the principals. Tuesday rounded out 61 years of married life for Dr. and Mrs. Wall. They are the parents of Judge Garrett D. Wall, of Maysville.

D. H. Griffith, of Crawfordsville, Iowa, advertised in a Chicago paper for a wife and Mrs. Irmintha Smith, of Beach Grove, this State, answered it. They agreed to meet at Burlington, Iowa, and be married, but when Griffith saw her heart failed him and instead of making her his wife he paid her way back to Kentucky and went to his home feeling no doubt that he had escaped a scouring.

DEATH'S HARVEST.

Mrs. Coyle, aged 97, died at Big Hill, Casey county, Monday.

Mrs. Amanda J. Coffey, widow of the late T. Cole Coffey, of this county, died at Monticello yesterday. She was 78 years of age and those who knew her here say she was a model, Christian woman.

Mrs. J. P. Nave, of Danville, died Sunday. The Advocate says she was a native of Jessamine, born March 7, 1831. She had been twice married and leaves six grown children, John Nave, Miss Mote and Mrs. John Scott by the second marriage. She was a member of the Christian church. Many friends in Boyle, Garrard, Lincoln and Madison counties will regret to learn of her death.

G. W. Cabell, who suffered a paralytic stroke Monday, died Wednesday morning after 40 hours of intense suffering. He had not been well for some time and Monday morning while at work at William Daugherty's blacksmith shop became ill and had to be taken home. Mr. Cabell was a kind-hearted, clever man, whose only fault was his uncontrollable love for strong drink. He leaves a wife and five children in almost destitute circumstances. Mrs. Cabell was sick in bed at present. His remains were interred in Buffalo Cemetery yesterday, the Presbyterians donating a lot.

Mrs. J. S. Reinhart, mother of Mr. E. L. Reinhart, of this place, died in Elkhorn Monday of heart trouble, aged 57. She had been an invalid for several years but not until three weeks ago was she thought to be dangerously ill. Her remains were brought here Tuesday afternoon and after appropriate services at the grave by Rev. J. B. Cronch, they were laid to rest in Buffalo cemetery. Mrs. Reinhart was a splendid Christian woman and for a number of years had been a devout member of the German Lutheran church. Besides her husband three sons are left to feel the irreparable loss of a loving wife and kind and indulgent mother.

John Lawrence, a Paducah butcher, was given two years in the penitentiary for stealing a cow.

A Chicago man killed his son-in-law as the result of a quarrel, and then committed suicide.

The relatives of an Indianapolis girl beat her terribly and drove her insane because they thought she was possessed of 21 devils.

The Mississippi at New Orleans has reached 18.7 feet above low-water mark which is eight-tenths of a foot above the highest previous record.

LANCASTER.

Mr. T. M. Middleton, of Harrodsburg, has been the guest of his brother-in-law, Mr. Geo. T. Farris.

The Blind Boone Concert Co. will have a large audience Friday night, many tickets having been sold already.

On Tuesday the stock of goods which were levied on as the property of R. A. Stone were sold to Thomas Saunders for $453. The friends of Mr. Stone are glad to see him on duty again at the old stand.

Your correspondent has received an anonymous letter from Back Creek with the skull and cross bones drawn in red ink, making dire threats against him if he continues to refer to toll-gate raiders as anarchists, in newspaper correspondence. The letter claims that they are 750 strong in this county and carried the free turnpike question long enough ago to have free roads if the courts were not influenced by corporations. The author is, of course, an anarchist, if he is one of the raiders and is not worthy of a passing notice.

The Lancaster Concert Band, Messrs. Logan and Patterson, Messrs. Farn, Ward, Owsley, Hemphill and others deserve much credit for the splendid entertainment given Tuesday night. A very large crowd was in attendance and notwithstanding the fact that the admission was only 15¢, $85 was raised for the benefit of the flood sufferers. Of course this was not all realized on ticket sales, as some contributed to the cause. Considering the population of the two cities, Lancaster has contributed much more liberally than Louisville, but it is characteristic of her people to exceed others in doing the right thing at the right time.

The remains of Maj. F. D. Rigney were interred in Lancaster Cemetery on Wednesday at 10 o'clock A. M. in the presence of many friends and relatives. He was in his 76th year and possessed many noble traits of character, as proved by the positions of trust which were thrust upon him by his fellow-men, the duties of which were ably and fearlessly discharged. His natural ability, strong will power, noble impulses and Christian life combined to make him an object of universal admiration. He leaves a widow and one son, W. O. Rigney, teller of the Citizen's National Bank, of this city. He was a Mexican veteran and a major in the last war. In 1881 he was elected to the State Senate to fill the vacancy occurring by the death of Hon. Robert Blain, of Lincoln county, and was afterward elected to serve a full term in the same body.

The fiscal court held an interesting session last Monday, settling several important questions. After due consideration it is decided by a unanimous vote not to lease the two turnpike roads, which were offered for rent. This settles the question and the owners of the roads, which have been thrown open, must suffer until the bond question is settled and probably afterwards, unless they help vote the bonds in order to realize something for the roads. The court reduced the county levy from 25¢ to 15 cents, being the lowest levy in the history of the county, it being clear of debt. The claims allowed amount to $5,664.19 and $2,000 were allowed for current expenses. A new disposition was made of the delinquent debt. It was divided among the four constables, each taking the names in his own precinct, and half the collections are to be paid to the county. The list amounts to about $1,600 and the close of the year will likely bear the collection of the bulk of it.

ATTENTION DEMOCRATS.

Pursuant to an order of the Democratic Executive Committee of the 13th Judicial District of Kentucky made at Danville, Ky., on the 12th day of April, I hereby request the democrats of Lincoln county to assemble in mass convention at the court-house in Stanford on Saturday, the 15th day of May, 1897, at 2 o'clock P. M., to appoint eight delegates to a convention of democrats to be held in Danville on the 18th day of May, 1897, to nominate candidates for the offices of judge and Commonwealth's attorney for the 13th Judicial District. All democrats without respect to individual views or course on the currency and coinage question, and who are now or will become legal voters by the next November election and who will support the nominees, are qualified and cordially invited to participate in this mass convention.

J. E. CARSON, Chairman, Dem. Ex. Com. Lincoln County.

A dispatch from Frankfort says that James McMurtry and Representative J. C. Napier came near coming to blows in the rotunda Wednesday. McMurtry accosted Napier for not voting for Hunter, when his vote would now elect him. Napier responded hotly and friends prevented serious trouble. McMurtry is from Garrard county, the home of Napier.

John Mackin, Jr., was hanged at Jersey City, N. J., for killing his wife and mother-in-law.

A Covington woman attempted suicide by throwing herself in front of a train because her son came home drunk and beat her.

The relatives of an Indianapolis girl beat her terribly and drove her insane because they thought she was possessed of 21 devils.

The Mississippi at New Orleans has reached 18.7 feet above low-water mark which is eight-tenths of a foot above the highest previous record.

Follow
Right
Along.
Our Styles in

New Spring Goods

And the low prices bring us the trade.

MEN'S FINE SUITS,

Without peer in make, fit & style at the low price of $10 and $12 which are equal to suits sold for $15, $18 and $20 elsewhere.

Call and see our line. No trouble to show goods.

Shirts, Shoes and Neckwear always up to date.

Agents for J. B. Stetson Soft and Stiff Hats.

One LOW PRICE to all.

J. L. Frohman & Co.,

THE GLOBE, - - Danville, Ky.

CLOSE PRICES!

Falls Branch and other Coals, also all kinds of Feeds sold at the following close prices, subject to change without notice.

Coal From 7c to 11 1-2c.

At house, with one cent added for delivery inside town limits. Corn from 30 to 35¢ per bushel. Oats from 30 to 35¢ per bushel. Hay, 40 to 60¢ per 100 pounds. Millet, 55¢ per 100 lbs. Straw, 30¢ per 100 lbs. Shipstuf, 70¢ per 100 lbs. Corn chaff, 65¢ per 100 lbs. We keep stock of all constantly on hands. Call and see us before buying.

J. H. BAUGHMAN & CO.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., APRIL 16, 1897

W. P. WALTON.

SIX : PAGES.

The gold democrats helped to break the quorum Tuesday, but decided not to do so after that day, but to give Hunter all the rope he wanted to either hang himself or make good his reiterated assertions that all he needed was a good square chance to win the Senatorial prize. Wednesday was scheduled for another supreme effort on the part of the doctor, but after seven ballots he was still no nearer to the goal than when he first began, being two short of the necessary number, and the joint session adjourned. It was plainly shown during the ballots that the opposition to Hunter could easily elect a Senator. The bolting republicans agreed to support Senator Martin and the gold democrats were a unit for him, but the Blackburn rule or ruin men would not hear to it and upon them must fall the blame of failure to elect a democrat. Considering everything and especially Senator Martin's adherence to Blackburn, it was not only the duty, but it should have been a pleasure to the silver democrats to have repaid the Woodford man for his devotion to their idol. Unless the unexpected occurs and there is an addition to Hunter's ranks either by choice or purchase, there is absolutely no hope now for the Cumberland county statesman, and he having been granted so many fair chances to shoot and not having done so, he ought to give up the gun before it is wrested from him. Let the democrats elect a democrat if possible. If not let them unite on Gov. Bradley or some other decent republican and end the miserable and very costly farce.

It was the same old story yesterday, as the following shows:

FRANKFORT, April 15.—The Legislature took three futile ballots to-day and adjourned. Hunter is still two short and his friends say is bound to remain so. The gold men are said to be determined to prevent the election of Hunter and in order to do so will break a quorum when necessary until he is withdrawn.

THE New York Journal of Sunday contained 120 pages and was perhaps the most fantastically printed daily paper ever issued. About half of it is printed in brightest of colors and nearly every subject connected with Easter is illustrated and dilated upon. The editorial page is filled with articles from distinguished preachers in proof of the resurrection of the Savior and numerous noted lawyers add their testimony that the weight of evidence as presented by the Bible and in other ways is as conclusive as was ever presented in court. Without referring to that particular subject, the Journal is often too much of a mushiness in its presentation of matters and only those who have an abundance of leisure can wade through its many columns.

THE president has appointed Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, ex-Vice President Stevenson, of Illinois, and Hon. Charles J. Paine, of Boston, commissioners to an international monetary conference to meet in Europe next month. The appointments are under the act of March 3d last "for the promotion of an international agreement for bimetallism." Stevenson and Wolcott are decided silver men, while Paine is classed as a supporter of bimetallism based on international agreement. If there is any good to come out of these international conferences, the cause of silver will not suffer in the hands of these gentlemen, whose appointment gives general satisfaction. Mr. Paine is a relative of Mr. C. H. Paine, who married one of Stanford's most charming young ladies.

The bill to pay special judges out of the regular judge's salary ought to become a law, with reasonable exceptions of course. Thousands of dollars are taken from the treasury annually by this special judge business, and many an old party hack is kept up at the expense of the State in this way. The State ought not to have to pay two men for the same work and it is hoped that the Legislature will forbid it hereafter.

THE consolidation of pension agencies ordered by Mr. Cleveland is likely to be revoked by McKinley. It would reduce the number of officials and consequently the expense of the disbursement, but as there is not enough pie to go around now and economy being a secondary consideration, it is safe to say that the pension offices at Louisville and elsewhere will remain for another four years at least.

OUR esteemed contemporary, the Richmond Climax, does us the distinguished honor to reproduce what we say in response to the Courier-Journal's strictures and comment most favorably thereon. Thanks, friend Woods: we appreciate your good words and are proud of your good opinion.

WHEN a few years ago a democratic governor vetoed the bill to reduce taxation, every mother's son of a republican can voted with a few misguided democrats to pass it over his veto. During their several campaigns since they have stoutly maintained that taxes were too high and that if given a chance they would reduce them. It is easy enough to promise, but it is not always so to fulfill, and even if we were republicans promises are like pie crusts. The republicans were given charge of the State affairs 18 months ago and what do we see? Taxes reduced, oh dear no? Tuesday every republican in the House voted to increase the rate from 42 to 52¢ and keep it at that for three years. Verily hath the people been given a stone when they were promised bread, and nice white light bread at that.

THE State executive committee, which met at Lexington Tuesday, fixed June 2 as the day and Frankfort as the place for holding a convention to nominate a candidate for the clerkship of the court of appeals. County mass meetings to elect delegates to it will be held at 2 p. m. May 29. The committee adopted a resolution to adhere to "the great principles enunciated at the Chicago convention," and all who will pledge to support the nominee will be permitted to participate in the nomination. There are a half dozen or more candidates for the clerkship, including W. B. Mason, of Garrard, who is mighty solid in all this region.

POLITICS

Arthur Sewall says the silver issue will be a success four years hence.

James B. Angell, of Michigan, was nominated to be United States minister to Turkey.

Hon. John T. Huston has been renominated for representative by the democrats of Bourbon.

Col. John Hay, ambassador to the court of St. James, sailed for England and Mr. Bayard will soon come sailing home.

Publ. Printer Palmer isn't paying much attention to civil service rules. He is making vacancies right and left for his republican friends.

The members of the Pennsylvania Legislature have been lending their railroad passes to others, and as a result they are being taken up.

Ben B. Cozine, a son of the dead editor, is now manager and W. S. Kaltenbacher is editor of the Shelby News, which continues to advocate free silver.

Those desiring Mowers or binders can save money by seeing W. H. Murphy, agent Walter A. Wood Co.

Will Hays and Jack Beale are handling a dozen or more good horses at the former's track on the Hustonville pike.

J. A. McKee & Co., of the large peach farm near Kingsville, write that the chances are still good for a the crop of peaches.

Ornament is a hot favorite for the Kentucky Derby. He is selling at even money, something heretofore unheard of for that race.

W. L. DeLong sold his farm, one mile from Georgetown, containing 500 acres to Mr. R. T. Ford, of New York, at $75 per acre, or $37,500.

The attention of breeders is called to the advertisements of L. S. Tevis' Farmers 1594 and M. S. Baughman's George Dietz 3862 and two jacks.

Allen & Lynn bought of T. A. Coulter a bunch of fat 175 pound hogs at $1.40 and sold to another party a bunch of 80 to 100-pound stock hogs at $1.

The State commissioner of agriculture says that the condition of the wheat crop is 94 now to 88 this time last year. The fruit prospect is quite bright.

It is probable that the Lexington races will be declared off, the Queen City Jockey Club refusing to give up a part of its Newport dates. Lexington turfmen are indignant.

The Advocate says that Capt. English sold 300 horses at Bowling Green and Louisville during the last two weeks at $200 to $400. Good, toppy individuals, drivers and riders, were in strong demand and always found bidders.

FOR SALE: TRADE OR LOAN.—Tom Robinson, a nice saddler, with fine knee action and a good breeder. By Wallace Denmark. First dam by Miller's Denmark; 2d dam by Montgomery's Oliver; 3d dam by Old Drennon. J. Steele Carpenter, Hustonville.

The trotters and pacers that have gone in 205 or better are Robert J. 2013; Joe Patchen 203; Star Pointer 2024; Frank Agan 2034; Maseot 204; Flying Jib 204; Strathberry 204; Rubenstein 205; Online 204; Hal Polster 204; Hal Dillard 204; Hal 204; Nancy Hanks 204; Azote 204.

Sheep raisers are talking of getting up a petition asking the Legislature to pass a law for protection against dogs. It is proposed that a dog tax be levied, to be collected by the sheriff, and that all dogs not wearing the tax paid tag be killed. From the fund raised by the tax, owners who suffer from the raids are to be reimbursed for their losses.—Advocate.

J. E. Carson, proprietor of the Willow Grove Jersey Farm at Crab Orchard, sold last week to the White River Jersey Cattle & Stock Farm Co., near Wabash, Ind., eight heifer calves, seven two-year-old heifers, six cows, and two bull calves, three months old, all Jerseys, for $1,725, or $75 each. He also sold a four months old bull to F. M. Jones, of Anderson, Ind., for $75 and another to Tipton & Armstrong, of Wooster, O., for the same amount. Mr. Carson says he sells off his scrubs every year or so but his best Jerseys are never permitted to leave Willow Grove Farm.

News Briefly Told

Col. Alfriend, the veteran Louisville railroad man, died suddenly at Ocean Springs, Miss.

The floods on the lower Mississippi do not abate and hope of raising a crop First Baptist church at Portsmouth, O., surprised his brethren by reducing his own salary nearly half.

Anna Hamlet Dickinson has been awarded $1 cents for unwarranted imprisonment in an insane asylum during 1891. Anna must have argued her own case before the jury.

A National association of railway employees, with a membership of 1,500, will have a big athletic meeting in Chicago, June 26, at which only railway employees will compete.

James Green and William Beson, members of a constable's posse, were shot while trying to arrest Gus Hite and West Cody in Union county. Green is dead and Beson is thought to be fatally wounded.

The cadets at Annapolis are raising a row over the appointment of a Negro cadet and say they will resign, but Gen. Shattuck, of Cincinnati, who made the appointment, says the Negro won fairly and the white trash can resign and be damned.

FARM AND TRADE.

Farris & Hardin sold a bunch of hogs at 3¢.

C. W. Williams has refused $50,000 for Allerton, 2094.

Good Jersey milk cow for sale. R. K. Wearen & Son.

George Patterson, 100 to 1, won a race at Newport Tuesday.

The dam of Directum, 2054, is booked to McKinney, 2114.

Directum is going sound. He gets 10 miles of road work daily.

In the last four months 5,000 miles have been sold in Macon.

Bull wanted high colored, two years old. Address Box 47, Kingsville.

Col. Huff Duddler sold to W. L. McCarty a two-year-old Pole Angus bull for $50.

It is estimated that $300,000,000 is invested in horses and race tracks in the United States.

R. D. Bruce is again agent for the old, reliable Champion Binder. See him before you buy.

B. K. Wearen & Son sold the milk cow advertised in our last issue to John Vontirnigan for $25.

Those desiring Mowers or binders can save money by seeing W. H. Murphy, agent Walter A. Wood Co.

Will Hays and Jack Beale are handling a dozen or more good horses at the former's track on the Hustonville pike.

J. A. McKee & Co., of the large peach farm near Kingsville, write that the chances are still good for a the crop of peaches.

Ornament is a hot favorite for the Kentucky Derby. He is selling at even money, something heretofore unheard of for that race.

W. L. DeLong sold his farm, one mile from Georgetown, containing 500 acres to Mr. R. T. Ford, of New York, at $75 per acre, or $37,500.

The attention of breeders is called to the advertisements of L. S. Tevis' Farmers 1594 and M. S. Baughman's George Dietz 3862 and two jacks.

Allen & Lynn bought of T. A. Coulter a bunch of fat 175 pound hogs at $1.40 and sold to another party a bunch of 80 to 100-pound stock hogs at $1.

The State commissioner of agriculture says that the condition of the wheat crop is 94 now to 88 this time last year. The fruit prospect is quite bright.

It is probable that the Lexington races will be declared off, the Queen City Jockey Club refusing to give up a part of its Newport dates. Lexington turfmen are indignant.

The Advocate says that Capt. English sold 300 horses at Bowling Green and Louisville during the last two weeks at $200 to $400. Good, toppy individuals, drivers and riders, were in strong demand and always found bidders.

FOR SALE: TRADE OR LOAN.—Tom Robinson, a nice saddler, with fine knee action and a good breeder. By Wallace Denmark. First dam by Miller's Denmark; 2d dam by Montgomery's Oliver; 3d dam by Old Drennon. J. Steele Carpenter, Hustonville.

The trotters and pacers that have gone in 205 or better are Robert J. 2013; Joe Patchen 203; Star Pointer 2024; Frank Agan 2034; Maseot 204; Flying Jib 204; Strathberry 204; Rubenstein 205; Online 204; Hal Polster 204; Hal Dillard 204; Hal 204; Nancy Hanks 204; Azote 204.

Sheep raisers are talking of getting up a petition asking the Legislature to pass a law for protection against dogs. It is proposed that a dog tax be levied, to be collected by the sheriff, and that all dogs not wearing the tax paid tag be killed. From the fund raised by the tax, owners who suffer from the raids are to be reimbursed for their losses.—Advocate.

J. E. Carson, proprietor of the Willow Grove Jersey Farm at Crab Orchard, sold last week to the White River Jersey Cattle & Stock Farm Co., near Wabash, Ind., eight heifer calves, seven two-year-old heifers, six cows, and two bull calves, three months old, all Jerseys, for $1,725, or $75 each.

He also sold a four months old bull to F. M. Jones, of Anderson, Ind., for $75 and another to Tipton & Armstrong, of Wooster, O., for the same amount. Mr. Carson says he sells off his scrubs every year or so but his best Jerseys are never permitted to leave Willow Grove Farm.

The trotters and pacers that have gone in 205 or better are Robert J. 2013; Joe Patchen 203; Star Pointer 2024; Frank Agan 2034; Maseot 204; Flying Jib 204; Strathberry 204; Rubenstein 205; Online 204; Hal Polster 204; Hal Dillard 204; Hal 204; Nancy Hanks 204; Azote 204.

Sheep raisers are talking of getting up a petition asking the Legislature to pass a law for protection against dogs. It is proposed that a dog tax be levied, to be collected by the sheriff, and that all dogs not wearing the tax paid tag be killed. From the fund raised by the tax, owners who suffer from the raids are to be reimbursed for their losses.—Advocate.

J. E. Carson, proprietor of the Willow Grove Jersey Farm at Crab Orchard, sold last week to the White River Jersey Cattle & Stock Farm Co., near Wabash, Ind., eight heifer calves, seven two-year-old heifers, six cows, and two bull calves, three months old, all Jerseys, for $1,725, or $75 each.

He also sold a four months old bull to F. M. Jones, of Anderson, Ind., for $75 and another to Tipton & Armstrong, of Wooster, O., for the same amount. Mr. Carson says he sells off his scrubs every year or so but his best Jerseys are never permitted to leave Willow Grove Farm.

The trotters and pacers that have gone in 205 or better are Robert J. 2013; Joe Patchen 203; Star Pointer 2024; Frank Agan 2034; Maseot 204; Flying Jib 204; Strathberry 204; Rubenstein 205; Online 204; Hal Polster 204; Hal Dillard 204; Hal 204; Nancy Hanks 204; Azote 204.

Sheep raisers are talking of getting up a petition asking the Legislature to pass a law for protection against dogs. It is proposed that a dog tax be levied, to be collected by the sheriff, and that all dogs not wearing the tax paid tag be killed. From the fund raised by the tax, owners who suffer from the raids are to be reimbursed for their losses.—Advocate.

J. E. Carson, proprietor of the Willow Grove Jersey Farm at Crab Orchard, sold last week to the White River Jersey Cattle & Stock Farm Co., near Wabash, Ind., eight heifer calves, seven two-year-old heifers, six cows, and two bull calves, three months old, all Jerseys, for $1,725, or $75 each.

He also sold a four months old bull to F. M. Jones, of Anderson, Ind., for $75 and another to Tipton & Armstrong, of Wooster, O., for the same amount. Mr. Carson says he sells off his scrubs every year or so but his best Jerseys are never permitted to leave Willow Grove Farm.

The trotters and pacers that have gone in 205 or better are Robert J. 2013; Joe Patchen 203; Star Pointer 2024; Frank Agan 2034; Maseot 204; Flying Jib 204; Strathberry 204; Rubenstein 205; Online 204; Hal Polster 204; Hal Dillard 204; Hal 204; Nancy Hanks 204; Azote 204.

Sheep raisers are talking of getting up a petition asking the Legislature to pass a law for protection against dogs. It is proposed that a dog tax be levied, to be collected by the sheriff, and that all dogs not wearing the tax paid tag be killed. From the fund raised by the tax, owners who suffer from the raids are to be reimbursed for their losses.—Advocate.

J. E. Carson, proprietor of the Willow Grove Jersey Farm at Crab Orchard, sold last week to the White River Jersey Cattle & Stock Farm Co., near Wabash, Ind., eight heifer calves, seven two-year-old heifers, six cows, and two bull calves, three months old, all Jerseys, for $1,725, or $75 each.

He also sold a four months old bull to F. M. Jones, of Anderson, Ind., for $75 and another to Tipton & Armstrong, of Wooster, O., for the same amount. Mr. Carson says he sells off his scrubs every year or so but his best Jerseys are never permitted to leave Willow Grove Farm.

The trotters and pacers that have gone in 205 or better are Robert J. 2013; Joe Patchen 203; Star Pointer 2024; Frank Agan 2034; Maseot 204; Flying Jib 204; Strathberry 204; Rubenstein 205; Online 204; Hal Polster 204; Hal Dillard 204; Hal 204; Nancy Hanks 204; Azote 204.

Sheep raisers are talking of getting up a petition asking the Legislature to pass a law for protection against dogs. It is proposed that a dog tax be levied, to be collected by the sheriff, and that all dogs not wearing the tax paid tag be killed. From the fund raised by the tax, owners who suffer from the raids are to be reimbursed for their losses.—Advocate.

J. E. Carson, proprietor of the Willow Grove Jersey Farm at Crab Orchard, sold last week to the White River Jersey Cattle & Stock Farm Co., near Wabash, Ind., eight heifer calves, seven two-year-old heifers, six cows, and two bull calves, three months old, all Jerseys, for $1,725, or $75 each.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

Published Tuesdays and Fridays
AT
25 CENTS PER YEAR IN ADVANCE
When not so paid $2.50 will be charged.

LOCAL TIME CARD.

KENTUCKY CENTRAL DIVISION.

Train leaves Stanford at 7:10 a. m. and returns at 4:30 p. m.

KNOXVILLE DIVISION.

No. 21 Train going North 12:37 p. m.
No. 26 " " " 3:13 p. m.
No. 25 " " South 12:04 p. m.
No. 21 " " " 1:05 p. m.
For all points.

THROUGH TICKETS SOLD.
BAGGAGE CHECKED THROUGH
For any information enquire of

JOE S. RICE, Agent,
Stanford, Ky.

QUEEN & CRESCENT.

Trains pass Junction City as follows:
No. 1, South 12:02 p. m. No. 2, North 3:45 p. m.
No. 3 " " 12:09 p. m. " 4 " 3:15 a. m.
No. 5 " " 11:31 a. m. " 6 " 4:49 p. m.
No. 9 " " 1:40 p. m. " 10 " 6:00 p. m.
Note—No. 9 and 10 run no further than Junction City. All trains stop there.

FRANKFORT AND C. C. CINCINNATI.

VIA GEORGE TOWN.
P. M. A. M. P. M. A. M.
2:31 4:00 Lexington, Ar. 12:55 8:20
3:15 " " 11:51 9:20
5:05 4:50 Arr. Georgetown, Ky. 9:35 6:30
7:20 11:55 " Frankfort, " 6:39 3:00
8:10 8:40 Arr. Paris " 5:50
Daily except Sunday C. D. HERCAW, G. F. A.

Do Not Buy a Bicycle until you have learned discounts on Wiggin's Special $55 High Grade, 1895
Pattern and warranted E. B. Wiggin, Station R, Clevea.

NOEL & SON,
DEALERS IN COAL.
Corn and Hay,
Order Office and Feed Exchange, near the Railroad
Crossing, Depot Street,
Stanford; — Kentucky,
Coal Yard, Mill Street, late J. H. Higgins.
Satisfaction guaranteed.

STORE ROOM
On Main Street, Stanford.
FOR RENT.
Apply to
W. P. WALTON.

BIG 4.
ROUTE.
The Best Line Board Front

TOLEDO AND DETROIT
All Points in Michigan.

CHICAGO
"White City Special."
Best Terminal Station.
ST. LOUIS
Avoiding the Tunnel
BOSTON.
Wagner Sleeping Cars.
NEW YORK.

REDUCED RATES to New York City.
The Chesapeake & Ohio Ry. will sell
round trip tickets to New York City at one and one-third fares going April 23
to 26th line, and good to return until
May 4th. Two Limited Vestibuled
Trains each way, making three hours quickest time from Central Kentucky
points. George W. Barney, dlv.
pass. agent Lexington, Ky.

What is known as the old Williams
homestead, among the noted buildings
in Greeneville, Tenn., in which Gen.
John B. Morgan spent his last night
before his death, and in which yard he
was killed, is to be remodeled, and converted into a hotel building by the present owners.—Claiborne, Tenn.,
Progress.

At a Mothers' Congress in New York
the other day Countess di Brazza said:
"We have been considered very insignificant by the men, and yet not one of them would have been alive to-day if it had not been for us." Nor any other day, either, for that matter.

Miss Grace Dinsmore, of New York
City, sold one of her fingers to a weak-thy Texas woman for $1,000. One of the latter's fingers had become diseased and had to be removed, and the doctor grafted the former's finger in
the place of it.

The Cincinnati Post figures that 200
persons have lost their lives, 150,000
have been rendered homeless and 10, 000 farm animals have drowned during
the present great flood in the Mississippi. The property loss is estimated at $100,000,000.

COMFORT.—No smoke, dust or elders on Queen & Crescent Route limited
trains South. Rock ballast. Super-trains with every comfort. Fast time and the short line from Cincinnati.

Wanted—An Idea
Who can think of some simple
thing to patent?
Write JOHN WEDDEBURN & CO., Patent Attorneys, Washington, D. C., for their $1.00 prize offer and list of two hundred inventions wanted.

LETTER OF THANKS.—A Georgia per received the following note of thanks from a practical, if disconsolate, widow: "Mr. Editor, I desire to thank the friends and neighbors most heartily in this manner for their united aid and co-operation during the illness and death of my late lamented husband, who escaped from me by the hand of death on last Friday while eating breakfast. To my friends, and all who contributed so willingly toward making the last moments and the funeral of my husband a howling success, I desire to re-number most kindly, hoping these lines will find them enjoying the same blessings as I am. I have a good milch cow and roan gelding horse, eight years old, which I will sell cheap. God moves in a mysterious way. His wonders to perform. He plants his footstep on the sea, and rides upon the storm; also,
a black and white sheep, very low."

To the church, Easter, which is next Sunday, is the festival of festivals.
Christ's work for man was then completed. This the church celebrates. It is, indeed, a day of triumph, for death is conquered, man is redeemed, his salvation secured and eternal life is his.
Christ's resurrection assures man's resurrection, hence there is good reason for songs of jubilee, and the heart of every Christian should send forth joyful notes of praise to the risen Lord.

As the frosts and freezes of two weeks ago occurred when everything was dry and the moon in the dark, the fruit crop suffered no injury. Last night there were thick frost and thin ice, but as the moon was in the light, and the stone-fruit blossoms were soaking wet, let us flatter ourselves that the plum-pudding and peach-cobbler crops are still efforscent with promise. There are in this great country other immortal things besides democracy. Louisville Times.

TO THE NORTH.—The Queen & Crescent Route has inaugurated a service of observation cars on the famous Blue Grass Vestibule between Cincinnati and Lexington. Free parlor cars and Queen & Crescent Standard vestibuled day coaches. Four trains daily to Cincinnati with close connections with all trains north. Queen & Crescent trains are without a peer in the South. 17 miles shortest line, unequalled train service. W. C. Ringnor, gen'l pass'r agt., Cincinnati, O.

Cooper Morris and Mason Thomas, painters, were found by the railroad at Rockfield, Ky., with probably fatal injuries. Foul play is suspected.

Four young men were arrested and fined $5 each in Bangor, Me., last week for chewing gum and whispering in church.

Insurgents in the Philippines killed several monks and burned three churches.

Mrs. Anna Miller, who recently died at Wilkesbarre, Pa., left her estate of $15,000 to her various friends and willed to her husband one cent to be paid five years to a day after her burial. She stated in her will that the old fellow lived for himself, did not help her to acquire her wealth and therefore is not entitled to participate in the distribution of her property.

INCOMPARABLE.—The service on the Queen & Crescent fast trains sent through Pullman drawing room sleepers.
Standard vestibuled day coaches (lavatories and smoking rooms.) Elegant cafe, parlor and observation cars.
Twenty-four hours Cincinnati to Florida or to New Orleans. W. C. RINEAR-SON, gen'l pass'r agt., Cincinnati, O.

REDUCED RATES to New York City.
The Chesapeake & Ohio Ry. will sell
round trip tickets to New York City at
one and one-third fares going April 23
to 26th line, and good to return until
May 4th. Two Limited Vestibuled
Trains each way, making three
hours quickest time from Central Kentucky
points. George W. Barney, dlv.
pass. agent Lexington, Ky.

What is known as the old Williams
homestead, among the noted buildings
in Greeneville, Tenn., in which Gen.
John B. Morgan spent his last night
before his death, and in which yard he
was killed, is to be remodeled, and converted into a hotel building by the present owners.—Claiborne, Tenn.,
Progress.

At a Mothers' Congress in New York
the other day Countess di Brazza said:
"We have been considered very insignificant by the men, and yet not one of them would have been alive to-day if it
had not been for us." Nor any other
day, either, for that matter.

Miss Grace Dinsmore, of New York
City, sold one of her fingers to a weak-thy Texas woman for $1,000. One of
the latter's fingers had become diseased and had to be removed, and the doctor grafted the former's finger in
the place of it.

The Cincinnati Post figures that 200
persons have lost their lives, 150,000
have been rendered homeless and 10, 000 farm animals have drowned during
the present great flood in the Mississippi. The property loss is estimated at $100,000,000.

COMFORT.—No smoke, dust or elders on Queen & Crescent Route limited
trains South. Rock ballast. Super-trains with every comfort. Fast time
and the short line from Cincinnati.

LIVE STOCK SHIPMENTS.

Mutual Quarantine and Other Regulations Between Canada and This Country.

The agreement between the United States and Canada relating to cattle,
sheep, swine and horses is as follows:

Each country shall accept the veterinary certificates of the other.

The chief of the bureau of animal industry and the chief inspector of stock for Canada will mutually inform one another of any outbreak of contagious animal disease in either country, or of disease in animals imported from either country.

A 90 day quarantine shall be enforced
by both countries upon all cattle imported from Europe or from any country in which contagious pleuropneumonia is known to exist. A 15 day quarantine shall be enforced upon all ruminants and swine imported from countries in which foot and mouth diseases have existed within six months and upon all swine imported from all other countries.

Breeding cattle admitted into this country must be accompanied by a certificate that they have been subjected to the tuberulin test and found free from tuberculosis; otherwise they shall be detained in quarantine one week and subjected to the tuberculin test. All cattle found tuberculous must be returned to the country whence shipped or slaughtered without compensation.

Cattle for feeding or stock raising ranches must be accompanied by a certificate showing that they are free from any contagious disease and that (excepting tuberculosis) no such disease exists in the district whence they came.

Cattle in transit will be admitted at any port of the United States and Canada in bond, or in bond for exportation by sea from any Canadian port or from Portland, Boston and New York.

No animals covered by this memorandum may be placed on board cars till the litter from previous loads has been removed and the car thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. Inspectors may cause such work to be done at the expense of the railway company, or prohibit the use of the car until it is done.

Sheep may be admitted subject to inspection at port of entry and accompanied by official certificates that sheep scab has not existed in the district where they have been fed within six months.
If disease exists in any of them, they may be returned or slaughtered. Sheep may be admitted for transit in bond from one port to another in either country, and, if for slaughter, they may be admitted without inspection. Subject to inspection at shipping port, they may be admitted into either country for transit to any shipping port in Canada for export by sea, or to the United States for export from Portland, Boston and New York.

Sheep may be admitted without inspection for slaughter in bonded cars to bonded slaughter houses, or when forming
part of a settler's effects and accompanied by a certificate that swine plague
or hog cholera has not existed within six months in the district whence they came. Lacking such certificate, they must be inspected at port of entry, and, if diseased, will be slaughtered without compensation.

Horses may be admitted in bond from
one port to another in either country
without inspection at the shipping port.
Horses may be admitted for racing, show
or breeding purposes on inspection at port of entry. Horses may be admitted
for temporary stay, teaming or pleasure driving at points along the
frontier for a period not exceeding one
week on port of entry permit of customs officer. Should he observe any evidence
of disease he will detain the animals
and report to the district inspector, who
will decide whether the animals may be admitted, and horses used for driving or
riding to or from points in Manitoba,
Northwest Territories or British Columbia or in business connected with stock
raising or mining, and horses belonging
to the Indian tribes, may be admitted
without inspection, but must report to
customs officers both going and coming.
Under all other circumstances horses
must be inspected at port of entry.

Horses may be admitted in bond from
one port to another in either country
without inspection at the shipping port.
Horses may be admitted for racing, show
or breeding purposes on inspection at
port of entry. Horses may be admitted
for temporary stay, teaming or
pleasure driving at points along the
frontier for a period not exceeding one
week on port of entry permit of customs
officer. Should he observe any evidence
of disease he will detain the animals
and report to the district inspector, who
will decide whether the animals may be
admitted, and horses used for driving or
riding to or from points in Manitoba,
Northwest Territories or British Columbia or in business connected with stock
raising or mining, and horses belonging
to the Indian tribes, may be admitted
without inspection, but must report to
customs officers both going and coming.
Under all other circumstances horses
must be inspected at port of entry.

Sheep may be admitted without inspection for slaughter in bonded cars to
bonded slaughter houses, or when forming
part of a settler's effects and accompanied by a certificate that swine plague
or hog cholera has not existed within
six months in the district whence they came. Lacking such certificate, they must be inspected at port of entry, and, if
diseased, will be slaughtered without compensation.

Horses may be admitted in bond from
one port to another in either country
without inspection at the shipping port.
Horses may be admitted for racing, show
or breeding purposes on inspection at
port of entry. Horses may be admitted
for temporary stay, teaming or
pleasure driving at points along the
frontier for a period not exceeding one
week on port of entry permit of customs
officer. Should he observe any evidence
of disease he will detain the animals
and report to the district inspector, who
will decide whether the animals may be
admitted, and horses used for driving or
riding to or from points in Manitoba,
Northwest Territories or British Columbia or in business connected with stock
raising or mining, and horses belonging
to the Indian tribes, may be admitted
without inspection, but must report to
customs officers both going and coming.
Under all other circumstances horses
must be inspected at port of entry.

Horses may be admitted in bond from
one port to another in either country
without inspection at the shipping port.
Horses may be admitted for racing, show
or breeding purposes on inspection at
port of entry. Horses may be admitted
for temporary stay, teaming or
pleasure driving at points along the
frontier for a period not exceeding one
week on port of entry permit of customs
officer. Should he observe any evidence
of disease he will detain the animals
and report to the district inspector, who
will decide whether the animals may be
admitted, and horses used for driving or
riding to or from points in Manitoba,
Northwest Territories or British Columbia or in business connected with stock
raising or mining, and horses belonging
to the Indian tribes, may be admitted
without inspection, but must report to
customs officers both going and coming.
Under all other circumstances horses
must be inspected at port of entry.

Horses may be admitted in bond from
one port to another in either country
without inspection at the shipping port.
Horses may be admitted for racing, show
or breeding purposes on inspection at
port of entry. Horses may be admitted
for temporary stay, teaming or
pleasure driving at points along the
frontier for a period not exceeding one
week on port of entry permit of customs
officer. Should he observe any evidence
of disease he will detain the animals
and report to the district inspector, who
will decide whether the animals may be
admitted, and horses used for driving or
riding to or from points in Manitoba,
Northwest Territories or British Columbia or in business connected with stock
raising or mining, and horses belonging
to the Indian tribes, may be admitted
without inspection, but must report to
customs officers both going and coming.
Under all other circumstances horses
must be inspected at port of entry.

Horses may be admitted in bond from
one port to another in either country
without inspection at the shipping port.
Horses may be admitted for racing, show
or breeding purposes on inspection at
port of entry. Horses may be admitted
for temporary stay, teaming or
pleasure driving at points along the
frontier for a period not exceeding one
week on port of entry permit of customs
officer. Should he observe any evidence
of disease he will detain the animals
and report to the district inspector, who
will decide whether the animals may be
admitted, and horses used for driving or
riding to or from points in Manitoba,
Northwest Territories or British Columbia or in business connected with stock
raising or mining, and horses belonging
to the Indian tribes, may be admitted
without inspection, but must report to
customs officers both going and coming.
Under all other circumstances horses
must be inspected at port of entry.

Horses may be admitted in bond from
one port to another in either country
without inspection at the shipping port.
Horses may be admitted for racing, show
or breeding purposes on inspection at
port of entry. Horses may be admitted
for temporary stay, teaming or
pleasure driving at points along the
frontier for a period not exceeding one
week on port of entry permit of customs
officer. Should he observe any evidence
of disease he will detain the animals
and report to the district inspector, who
will decide whether the animals may be
admitted, and horses used for driving or
riding to or from points in Manitoba,
Northwest Territories or British Columbia or in business connected with stock
raising or mining, and horses belonging
to the Indian tribes, may be admitted
without inspection, but must report to
customs officers both going and coming.
Under all other circumstances horses
must be inspected at port of entry.

Horses may be admitted in bond from
one port to another in either country
without inspection at the shipping port.
Horses may be admitted for racing, show
or breeding purposes on inspection at
port of entry. Horses may be admitted
for temporary stay, teaming or
pleasure driving at points along the
frontier for a period not exceeding one
week on port of entry permit of customs
officer. Should he observe any evidence
of disease he will detain the animals
and report to the district inspector, who
will decide whether the animals may be
admitted, and horses used for driving or
riding to or from points in Manitoba,
Northwest Territories or British Columbia or in business connected with stock
raising or mining, and horses belonging
to the Indian tribes, may be admitted
without inspection, but must report to
customs officers both going and coming.
Under all other circumstances horses
must be inspected at port of entry.

Horses may be admitted in bond from
one port to another in either country
without inspection at the shipping port.
Horses may be admitted for racing, show
or breeding purposes on inspection at
port of entry. Horses may be admitted
for temporary stay, teaming or
pleasure driving at points along the
frontier for a period not exceeding one
week on port of entry permit of customs
officer. Should he observe any evidence
of disease he will detain the animals
and report to the district inspector, who
will decide whether the animals may be
admitted, and horses used for driving or

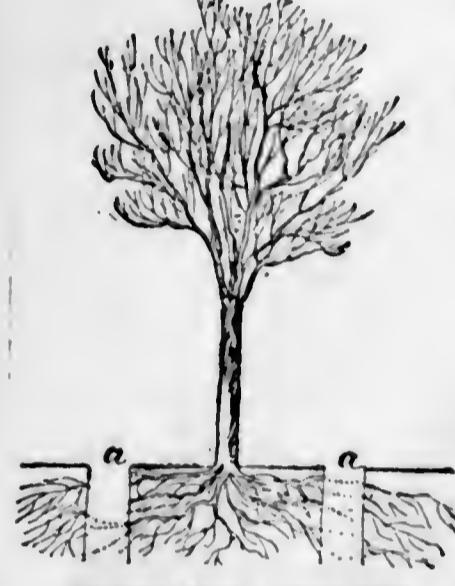

MOVING LARGE TREES.

Trees That Are Easily Transplanted—Rules to Be Observed.

Elias A. Long, acknowledged authority in such matters, names the conditions of success and failure in moving big trees in American Gardening somewhat as follows:

Much depends on the kind of tree. Few trees take kindly to transplanting. Their roots are compact and fibrous, hence a ball of earth of comparatively small compass contains nearly all of them. Arbor vitae, some junipers, the box, the Indian azaleas and others belong to that class, and leading shade and forest trees do not. Of the latter, some are more compact than others. Generally it is safe to conclude that the roots and tops are nearly alike in respect to compactness—that is, when, as in the case of the native elm, the branches are slender and long, reaching the roots are likewise. The more compactly headed hard maples have roots compact in proportion. This matter has a practical bearing on the question of trans-planting and is explained by aid of an illustration representing a 15-year-old elm. In preparing this for transplanting (see cross sectional view) a trench (A A) is cut around the tree at three feet from the trunk, which provides for a ball of earth over six feet across to be removed with the tree. Assuming that the roots equal the branches in length, the former are here shown in about their proper proportion. But in cutting the trench as shown fully one-half in length of the roots are cut off, with corresponding damage to the tree. Supposing that we had a yew tree of the same age instead. Being without a trunk, the head of the yew would rest on the ground, the branches would be short and compact and the roots quite similar. In that case to dig a trench as shown would, unlike in the case of the elm, be to retain nearly all the roots and involve less risk in the transplanting.

TRANSPLANTING A LARGE TREE.

From what has been said it might be assumed that it would be better to set out hard maples with their somewhat compact roots than elms that spread more. Yes, provided that in other respects the first named are transplanted with equal readiness. But such is not the case. Generally speaking, the hard-wood trees right through are more difficult to transplant than soft wood ones. Where there is hydrant water that can be freely applied success may be expected with the elm and soft maple, both of which are moisture loving trees.

In transplanting large elms and other deciduous trees the rule must be to reduce the top in exact proportion as the roots have been shortened. Assuming in the case of the elm here illustrated that somewhat more than one-half the roots were cut off, then somewhat more than one-half of the head should be cut away by trimming out some branches entire and cutting all others back. Do the work in winter, when the earth is frozen. The time to prepare for the removal is before the ground is frozen solid, the first job being to dig the trench. Then when frost has penetrated throughout the ball the removal can take place.

Growing Bulbs.

Bulbs require a good deep, rich soil. Professor Irish of the Shaw School of Botany advises covering the bulbs with fine manure two inches deep and working it into the soil during the summer. Fall bulbs should be in the ground for three years. Crocuses can be put into any part of the lawn, and they will come up through the grass early in the spring, thus making dainty spots of color while the weather is still cold. Plant hardy bulbs in November and spring bulbs in early spring.

Scott's Winter Apple.

Dr. Haskins of Vermont is quoted as saying that "through the northwest as well as in northern New England, especially in Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota, Scott's Winter is considered the best apple for the late winter market. No other variety so productive of such handsome fruit will grow north of the point where the Baldwin fails to endure the cold."

Violets in Favor.

Princess of Wales is an extremely fragrant violet. Swaney White is a double violet, pure white and fragrant. Single violets are popular, and among these the Luxonne ranks high. Adurial Avellan is another French variety. Its flowers are of bright reddish purple. California violets, as usual, find a place.

Hudson Valley Fruit Growers.

The new society organized under the name Hudson Valley Horticultural Society is expected to cover the counties along the Hudson river from Washington south and also Long Island. The first meeting will be held at Poughkeepsie March 11-12.

ABOUT KAFFIR CORN.

Results of Practical Tests Reported From Oklahoma and Michigan.

G. E. Morrow, director of the Oklahoma station, in a letter to The National Stockman and Farmer, writes, giving a word of caution as to this plant. He says:

Two years' experience with it in this territory increases my appreciation of its value for regions where a lack of sufficient rainfall is to be feared and where there is probability of extreme high temperature and hot winds. On the other hand, I would not think of cultivating it in any region in which Indian corn can be depended upon to do fairly well. The weight of evidence is that the Kaffir is not fully equal to corn in feeding value—it is not well suited for feeding groundhog to my class of stock aside from poultry and possibly sheep.

Here there frequently is a considerable growth after the first crop is cut, giving a fair amount of pasture. I have not known a case in which two crops were directly harvested. Little has been done in the way of developing improved varieties, and 30 to 40 cents per 100 pounds is a good price for the seed in the regions in which millions of bushels are grown.

A Michigan farmer, writing from Leavenworth county, makes this report: "The first days in June I planted two acres and had an enormous growth; cut it the middle of October and set it in shocks like corn; when cured, tied in bundles and set them up again in larger shocks, and later hauled in barn when in good shape.

"But now for the drawbacks. I find that the seed will not mature here and, owing to the stalks being full of juice, remain very heavy and hard to handle. Then, after mowing, it commenced to heat, became moldy and nearly all unfit for feed. To those who wish to prepare for feed for late summer or fall I would say, plant Kaffir corn by all means, but do not try to keep any for winter use, except to leave it in the field until fed out or unless you have a drier climate than we have in the lower part of Michigan."

The Campbell System.

The Campbell system of soil culture consists of a complete rearrangement and pulverizing of the top seven or eight inches of soil, turning it as nearly bottom upward as is possible. The plant food is found at the end of each season very largely concentrated in the top four inches. This plant food must be plowed down into the bottom of a furrow seven or eight inches deep. From this depth it will be placed by the action of moisture just where the little feeders of the plant roots want it. Immediately after plowing the lower four inches of the furrow slice must be packed as firm as possible.

After the deep plowing and subsurface packing the next step is to keep the upper two inches of the surface soil constantly dry. This forms a soft mulch or dust blanket, so as to cut off the moist earth below from the effects of the air. Water cannot pass through loose, dry soil by capillary attraction. Therefore the dust blanket protects the moisture in the root bed from evaporation and saves all the natural rainfall for the use of the plants. Strong capillary attraction is desired in the surface, and therefore the dust blanket is formed.

Mothers at 10 months old sometimes, no wonder they run small and produce only one young at a time. Inhabit these sheep are quiet and give little trouble, but they love to be on the tops of the mountains in fine weather. There is money in these sheep as lambs for market, if any of my readers want an opening. Surely if Welsh mutton in London is worth 8 pence or 9 pence (16 to 18 cents) per pound, and if lambs at 25 pounds can be bought for 6 or 7 shillings, there is money in them. Welsh sheep farmers do not get it—not they. It goes into several pockets on its way to the family table of the town consumer.

The meat, as the farmers themselves

WELSH MOUNTAIN SHEEP.

HARDEST and Most Easily Reared Lambs in Existence.

We find in an English journal, The Illustrated Penny Paper, a cut and description of what seems to be one of the most profitable breeds of sheep to be found anywhere. From the description of the Welsh mountain sheep we judge they would be exceedingly profitable in the United States, especially among that too large class of farmers who are careless with their live stock. The Welsh sheep is particularly hardy and would fit in well on poor and rocky lands with scant herbage. The English writer describes these sheep thus:

"In size they are small medium. It would take a very good early lamb to weigh 40 pounds in October. Some I handled lately were under 30 pounds, but they were very small and very late ones. The great cause of the small size in these sheep is in premature breeding. It is quite common to see rams running with and serving lambs not much over 6 months old.

The Welsh sheep farmer is nothing if he is not keen and anxious to multiply his stock. They cost him scarcely anything. He has a free mountain range going with his farm. He clips a great part of his flock twice a year, and he

"But now for the drawbacks. I find that the seed will not mature here and, owing to the stalks being full of juice, remain very heavy and hard to handle. Then, after mowing, it commenced to heat, became moldy and nearly all unfit for feed. To those who wish to prepare for feed for late summer or fall I would say, plant Kaffir corn by all means, but do not try to keep any for winter use, except to leave it in the field until fed out or unless you have a drier climate than we have in the lower part of Michigan."

The Campbell system of soil culture consists of a complete rearrangement and pulverizing of the top seven or eight inches of soil, turning it as nearly bottom upward as is possible. The plant food is found at the end of each season very largely concentrated in the top four inches. This plant food must be plowed down into the bottom of a furrow seven or eight inches deep. From this depth it will be placed by the action of moisture just where the little feeders of the plant roots want it. Immediately after plowing the lower four inches of the furrow slice must be packed as firm as possible.

After the deep plowing and subsurface packing the next step is to keep the upper two inches of the surface soil constantly dry. This forms a soft mulch or dust blanket, so as to cut off the moist earth below from the effects of the air. Water cannot pass through loose, dry soil by capillary attraction. Therefore the dust blanket protects the moisture in the root bed from evaporation and saves all the natural rainfall for the use of the plants. Strong capillary attraction is desired in the surface, and therefore the dust blanket is formed.

Mothers at 10 months old sometimes, no wonder they run small and produce only one young at a time. Inhabit these sheep are quiet and give little trouble, but they love to be on the tops of the mountains in fine weather. There is money in these sheep as lambs for market, if any of my readers want an opening. Surely if Welsh mutton in London is worth 8 pence or 9 pence (16 to 18 cents) per pound, and if lambs at 25 pounds can be bought for 6 or 7 shillings, there is money in them. Welsh sheep farmers do not get it—not they. It goes into several pockets on its way to the family table of the town consumer.

The meat, as the farmers themselves

know it and eat it fresh off the mountains, is delicious. There is no other mutton like it, and I think for invalids' fare and for easy digestion it is the tenderest and sweetest of flesh food I know of. The lambs will not fatten to any advantage. They want a few weeks' good keep, and then to be killed and eaten during the early winter months. Of course the meat is nearly all lean. If fat there be, it is inside the animal, and not mixed up with its flesh. Let me depict what some Mexicans "looker out" may like to know of a small farmstead, with a plain and sometimes badly built cottage on it, attached to 10 or 20 acres of poorish pasture and arable land in some out of the way valley that is rented at 10 shillings an acre—house, farmstead and all—and that has with its

family table of the town consumer.

The meat, as the farmers themselves

know it and eat it fresh off the mountains, is delicious. There is no other mutton like it, and I think for invalids' fare and for easy digestion it is the tenderest and sweetest of flesh food I know of. The lambs will not fatten to any advantage. They want a few weeks' good keep, and then to be killed and eaten during the early winter months. Of course the meat is nearly all lean. If fat there be, it is inside the animal, and not mixed up with its flesh. Let me depict what some Mexicans "looker out" may like to know of a small farmstead, with a plain and sometimes badly built cottage on it, attached to 10 or 20 acres of poorish pasture and arable land in some out of the way valley that is rented at 10 shillings an acre—house, farmstead and all—and that has with its

family table of the town consumer.

The meat, as the farmers themselves

know it and eat it fresh off the mountains, is delicious. There is no other mutton like it, and I think for invalids' fare and for easy digestion it is the tenderest and sweetest of flesh food I know of. The lambs will not fatten to any advantage. They want a few weeks' good keep, and then to be killed and eaten during the early winter months. Of course the meat is nearly all lean. If fat there be, it is inside the animal, and not mixed up with its flesh. Let me depict what some Mexicans "looker out" may like to know of a small farmstead, with a plain and sometimes badly built cottage on it, attached to 10 or 20 acres of poorish pasture and arable land in some out of the way valley that is rented at 10 shillings an acre—house, farmstead and all—and that has with its

family table of the town consumer.

The meat, as the farmers themselves

know it and eat it fresh off the mountains, is delicious. There is no other mutton like it, and I think for invalids' fare and for easy digestion it is the tenderest and sweetest of flesh food I know of. The lambs will not fatten to any advantage. They want a few weeks' good keep, and then to be killed and eaten during the early winter months. Of course the meat is nearly all lean. If fat there be, it is inside the animal, and not mixed up with its flesh. Let me depict what some Mexicans "looker out" may like to know of a small farmstead, with a plain and sometimes badly built cottage on it, attached to 10 or 20 acres of poorish pasture and arable land in some out of the way valley that is rented at 10 shillings an acre—house, farmstead and all—and that has with its

family table of the town consumer.

The meat, as the farmers themselves

know it and eat it fresh off the mountains, is delicious. There is no other mutton like it, and I think for invalids' fare and for easy digestion it is the tenderest and sweetest of flesh food I know of. The lambs will not fatten to any advantage. They want a few weeks' good keep, and then to be killed and eaten during the early winter months. Of course the meat is nearly all lean. If fat there be, it is inside the animal, and not mixed up with its flesh. Let me depict what some Mexicans "looker out" may like to know of a small farmstead, with a plain and sometimes badly built cottage on it, attached to 10 or 20 acres of poorish pasture and arable land in some out of the way valley that is rented at 10 shillings an acre—house, farmstead and all—and that has with its

family table of the town consumer.

The meat, as the farmers themselves

know it and eat it fresh off the mountains, is delicious. There is no other mutton like it, and I think for invalids' fare and for easy digestion it is the tenderest and sweetest of flesh food I know of. The lambs will not fatten to any advantage. They want a few weeks' good keep, and then to be killed and eaten during the early winter months. Of course the meat is nearly all lean. If fat there be, it is inside the animal, and not mixed up with its flesh. Let me depict what some Mexicans "looker out" may like to know of a small farmstead, with a plain and sometimes badly built cottage on it, attached to 10 or 20 acres of poorish pasture and arable land in some out of the way valley that is rented at 10 shillings an acre—house, farmstead and all—and that has with its

family table of the town consumer.

The meat, as the farmers themselves

know it and eat it fresh off the mountains, is delicious. There is no other mutton like it, and I think for invalids' fare and for easy digestion it is the tenderest and sweetest of flesh food I know of. The lambs will not fatten to any advantage. They want a few weeks' good keep, and then to be killed and eaten during the early winter months. Of course the meat is nearly all lean. If fat there be, it is inside the animal, and not mixed up with its flesh. Let me depict what some Mexicans "looker out" may like to know of a small farmstead, with a plain and sometimes badly built cottage on it, attached to 10 or 20 acres of poorish pasture and arable land in some out of the way valley that is rented at 10 shillings an acre—house, farmstead and all—and that has with its

family table of the town consumer.

The meat, as the farmers themselves

know it and eat it fresh off the mountains, is delicious. There is no other mutton like it, and I think for invalids' fare and for easy digestion it is the tenderest and sweetest of flesh food I know of. The lambs will not fatten to any advantage. They want a few weeks' good keep, and then to be killed and eaten during the early winter months. Of course the meat is nearly all lean. If fat there be, it is inside the animal, and not mixed up with its flesh. Let me depict what some Mexicans "looker out" may like to know of a small farmstead, with a plain and sometimes badly built cottage on it, attached to 10 or 20 acres of poorish pasture and arable land in some out of the way valley that is rented at 10 shillings an acre—house, farmstead and all—and that has with its

family table of the town consumer.

The meat, as the farmers themselves

know it and eat it fresh off the mountains, is delicious. There is no other mutton like it, and I think for invalids' fare and for easy digestion it is the tenderest and sweetest of flesh food I know of. The lambs will not fatten to any advantage. They want a few weeks' good keep, and then to be killed and eaten during the early winter months. Of course the meat is nearly all lean. If fat there be, it is inside the animal, and not mixed up with its flesh. Let me depict what some Mexicans "looker out" may like to know of a small farmstead, with a plain and sometimes badly built cottage on it, attached to 10 or 20 acres of poorish pasture and arable land in some out of the way valley that is rented at 10 shillings an acre—house, farmstead and all—and that has with its

family table of the town consumer.

The meat, as the farmers themselves

know it and eat it fresh off the mountains, is delicious. There is no other mutton like it, and I think for invalids' fare and for easy digestion it is the tenderest and sweetest of flesh food I know of. The lambs will not fatten to any advantage. They want a few weeks' good keep, and then to be killed and eaten during the early winter months. Of course the meat is nearly all lean. If fat there be, it is inside the animal, and not mixed up with its flesh. Let me depict what some Mexicans "looker out" may like to know of a small farmstead, with a plain and sometimes badly built cottage on it, attached to 10 or 20 acres of poorish pasture and arable land in some out of the way valley that is rented at 10 shillings an acre—house, farmstead and all—and that has with its

family table of the town consumer.

The meat, as the farmers themselves

know it and eat it fresh off the mountains, is delicious. There is no other mutton like it, and I think for invalids' fare and for easy digestion it is the tenderest and sweetest of flesh food I know of. The lambs will not fatten to any advantage. They want a few weeks' good keep, and then to be killed and eaten during the early winter months. Of course the meat is nearly all lean. If fat there be, it is inside the animal, and not mixed up with its flesh. Let me depict what some Mexicans "looker out" may like to know of a small farmstead, with a plain and sometimes badly built cottage on it, attached to 10 or 20 acres of poorish pasture and arable land in some out of the way valley that is rented at 10 shillings an acre—house, farmstead and all—and that has with its

family table of the town consumer.

The meat, as the farmers themselves

know it and eat it fresh off the mountains, is delicious. There is no other mutton like it, and I think for invalids' fare and for easy digestion it is the tenderest and sweetest of flesh food I know of. The lambs will not fatten to any advantage. They want a few weeks' good keep, and then to be killed and eaten during the early winter months. Of course the meat is nearly all lean. If fat there be, it is inside the animal, and not mixed up with its flesh. Let me depict what some Mexicans "looker out" may like to know of a small farmstead, with a plain and sometimes badly built cottage on it, attached to 10 or 20 acres of poorish pasture and arable land in some out of the way valley that is rented at 10 shillings an acre—house, farmstead and all—and that has with its

family table of the town consumer.

The meat, as the farmers themselves

know it and eat it fresh off the mountains, is delicious. There is no other mutton like it, and I think for invalids' fare and for easy digestion it is the tenderest and sweetest of flesh food I know of. The lambs will not fatten to any advantage. They want a few weeks' good keep, and then to be killed and eaten during the early winter months. Of course the meat is nearly all lean. If fat there be, it is inside the animal, and not mixed up with its flesh. Let me depict what some Mexicans "looker out" may like to know of a small farmstead, with a plain and sometimes badly built cottage on it, attached to 10 or 2

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., APRIL 16, 1897

E. C. WALTON, BUSINESS MANAGER.

ALARASTINE, the great wall flint, is made in 13 different colors. Every color is in stock now at Penny's Drug Store.

PERSONALS.

DR. J. G. CARPENTER has been quite sick for several days.

ATTORNEY WM. AVRELS, of Pineville, was here Tuesday.

JUDGE AND MRS. J. W. ALCORN went to Cincinnati Tuesday.

FRED P. BISHOP, of the West End, is down with the typhoid fever.

MR. SIM PERKINS, of Garrard, is a patient at Joseph Price Infirmary.

MR. J. T. BROWN, of Harrodsburg, is visiting his niece, Mrs. B. K. Wearen.

MRS. JENNIE WOLF and Miss Rachel Kelley, of Danville, were guests of Mrs. T. J. Hill.

MR. W. C. WHITE, of Parksville, was here this week with his brother, Mr. J. M. White.

MRS. DR. J. M. BLACK, of Knobville, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Dr. J. G. Carpenter.

MR. BRIGHT FERRILL has been assigned to a distillery near McWhorter, Laurel county.

MR. M. F. ELKIN went to Lebanon Wednesday to see after the Macadoo bridge at that place.

MRS. JAMES F. CUMMINS spent several days with her brother, Mr. L. A. Pettin, at Livingston.

CRAIG MARTIN, who lives near Hale's Well, is very low with the chancre against his recovery.

MISS JOSEPHINE ENGLEMAN went to Loolsville yesterday to take a position in a telephone exchange.

MISS PAULINE MEIER, of Louisville, arrived Wednesday, to visit her brothers and sister here.

MR. S. H. GODMAN, of Wabash, Ind., an old friend of Mr. J. E. Carson, of the East End, is his guest.

MR. T. S. WEBB, JR., of Knoxville, joined his wife and children at Judge M. C. Sankey's Wednesday.

REV. S. M. LOGAN and Mr. John J. McRoberts went to Campbellsville yesterday to attend Presbytery.

MRS. GEORGE P. TAUCHMAN and son, Ned Healy, accompanied Rev. George P. Tauchman to Newport yesterday.

MISS LOUELLA BRIGHT, of Middletown, came down to attend the trial of the Bright will case and was a witness.

W. P. RAINES, of Livingston, was on Tuesday's train en route to Lebanon to represent his church at the Presbytery.

MR. W. R. DEDMAN is shipping his household goods to Somerset, where he will go in a few days and open a barber shop.

J. C. JONES, of Pineville, was on yesterday's train returning from Frankfort, where he had been to lobby a bill or two through.

MRS. R. S. LITTLE went to Louisville Wednesday to spend a few weeks with her husband who is there waiting on the Spring trade.

COL. JAMES B. OWENS and son, Mr. Caldwell Owens, of Stanford, were the guests Saturday of Mr. Geo. Bohon, Harrodsburg Sayings.

DR. JACKSON GIVENS came down from Pittsburg yesterday to see his brother, George Givens, who is ill at his home near Shelby City.

HON. JOHN SAM OWSLEY, SR., is representing Walnut Flat church at the meeting of the Cumberland Presbytery in Montgomery county.

JAMES ENGLEMAN has just completed his four years' apprenticeship with Danks, the jeweler, and is considering an offer he has from a Boston party.

REV. J. B. CHUCK and wife ask us to thank the good people who remembered them so substantially a week ago. They are very proud of the kind treatment.

REV. L. L. PICKETT went over to Harrodsburg Wednesday to remain until to-day when he will return and resume his preaching at the Methodist church. His wife and children have returned to their home in Louisville.

MR. WEAREN, who has been with Higgins & McKinney for several years, will give up his job to-morrow, and next week he will go to Nashville to look after his father's buggy exhibit at the Centennial. Jack Ront will succeed him at the store.

MISS ANNIE DUNN, Marie Warren and Nona Phillips returned Wednesday morning from Lebanon, Ohio, where they have been attending a Normal school. Misses Annie McKinney, Esther Burch and Laura Helm will remain through another term of eight weeks.

MISS ELIZABETH SLAYMAKER, a clever young painter, the daughter of Rev. W. A. Slaymaker, of Berkley, has sold her picture, "The Fates," to Mr. J. J. Adams, of New York, for $100. Miss Slaymaker has another excellent picture on exhibition now, a copy of one of the most pleasing examples of Bouguereau's art, "The Days That Are No More." She is working diligently, and although too young an artist to attract attention abroad, she wins heavy and discriminating praise here.—Norfolk, Va., Dispatch.

MRS. WILL SEVERANCE entertained the Economical Club from 3 to 5 yesterday afternoon. It goes without saying that the club was as royally feasted as it was beautifully entertained.

GEORGE L. PENNY got back from Casey yesterday where he went to fish, satisfied that Barrow's pond is good enough for him. He says it began raining as soon as his crowd got to the river and that Green River now looks like an ocean.

HOME NEWS.

EASTER Spoons to order. Danks.

DANKS' Silver Novelties for Easter.

BORN, to the wife of Theo. Powell, a girl.

EASTER egg dyes 5 cts. a package at Craig & Hoekers.

PURE Maple Sugar, 15 cts. a pound. Warren & Shanks.

LATEST styles and tints in stationary at Craig & Hoekers. Just received.

SEED sweet and Irish potatoes in great variety at Higgins & McKinney's.

COTRIGHT tin shingles make the best roof. I am sole agent for Lincoln county. A. C. Sine.

A DISPATCH from Washington says that J. L. Carter will be appointed postmaster at Milledgeville and John Young at Highland.

READ W. W. Withers' advertisement if you want to save money. He has almost anything you want and his prices are lower than anybody's.

PAINT SHOP. Nathan Belden and J. C. Dawson, two expert painters, have opened a general paint shop in the old Christop church building on Depot street.

SHOT. While cleaning his gun at W. C. Wolford's store near Hustonville, Young Russell was shot in the left arm by the accidental discharge of the weapon. The member will likely have to be amputated.

MY annual spring opening will go on to-day and to-morrow. Saturday will be devoted to the children. Don't fail to let your little girl come. Hats and bonnets to suit every body and prices to suit the times. Miss Liddle Beazley.

THE decadence of the horse business is shown in the fact that two years ago we had more than two pages of stallion and jock advertisements. This year we have less than two columns and that represents the difference in the number that is standing this year and in 1895.

HERE'S ANOTHER.—Samuel Bishop, of the Turnersville section, tells us that he has a relative in Pulaski who downed Casey county's fat boy, Fred Durham. His name is John Zeller and four years ago when he was 15 he weighed 288 pounds. Mr. Bishop has not seen him since but is satisfied that he weighs at least 500 now.

WE have at last seen a woman who voted in a general election. A lady from Colorado was on Wednesday night's train en route to the new gold fields in North Carolina, where her son-in-law is largely interested, and she told us that she voted for Bryan as did all the rest of her family, although they had previously been republicans. She says she has great confidence in her husband's judgment and voted as he did.

MRS. R. S. LITTLE went to Louisville Wednesday to spend a few weeks with her husband who is there waiting on the Spring trade.

COL. JAMES B. OWENS and son, Mr. Caldwell Owens, of Stanford, were the guests Saturday of Mr. Geo. Bohon, Harrodsburg Sayings.

DR. JACKSON GIVENS came down from Pittsburg yesterday to see his brother, George Givens, who is ill at his home near Shelby City.

HON. JOHN SAM OWSLEY, SR., is representing Walnut Flat church at the meeting of the Cumberland Presbytery in Montgomery county.

JAMES ENGLEMAN has just completed his four years' apprenticeship with Danks, the jeweler, and is considering an offer he has from a Boston party.

REV. J. B. CHUCK and wife ask us to thank the good people who remembered them so substantially a week ago. They are very proud of the kind treatment.

REV. L. L. PICKETT went over to Harrodsburg Wednesday to remain until to-day when he will return and resume his preaching at the Methodist church. His wife and children have returned to their home in Louisville.

MR. WEAREN, who has been with Higgins & McKinney for several years, will give up his job to-morrow, and next week he will go to Nashville to look after his father's buggy exhibit at the Centennial. Jack Ront will succeed him at the store.

MISS ANNIE DUNN, Marie Warren and Nona Phillips returned Wednesday morning from Lebanon, Ohio, where they have been attending a Normal school. Misses Annie McKinney, Esther Burch and Laura Helm will remain through another term of eight weeks.

MISS ELIZABETH SLAYMAKER, a clever young painter, the daughter of Rev. W. A. Slaymaker, of Berkley, has sold her picture, "The Fates," to Mr. J. J. Adams, of New York, for $100. Miss Slaymaker has another excellent picture on exhibition now, a copy of one of the most pleasing examples of Bouguereau's art, "The Days That Are No More." She is working diligently, and although too young an artist to attract attention abroad, she wins heavy and discriminating praise here.—Norfolk, Va., Dispatch.

WANT a truss? Craig & Hoekers will guarantee it and satisfaction.

SEE our line of cheap wall paper for you purchase. New and cheaper. W. B. McRoberts.

A NEW line of straw matting at prices that will suit the times at W. H. Shanks.

A GREAT display of pattern bonnets and children's hats Friday, 16. Everybody invited to come and inspect my stock. Mrs. Kate Dudderar.

MISS LUCIE BRAZLEY's Easter display takes the cake. It is a brood of live chicks watched over by a life sized doll baby, who seems to be much interested in the antics of the little creatures.

In Jessamine county the treasurer pays a premium for the privilege of handling the public funds. The two Nicholasville banks were contending bidders for the place. Lincoln county gives her treasurer $125.

THE announcement of Mr. M. F. North for county attorney, which appears elsewhere in this issue, has the tene democratic ring about it. Mr. North is a worthy and well qualified man and would fill the position he seeks with credit alike to himself and his constituents.

J. B. PAXTON, ESQ., tells his party in this issue that he would like to be honored with the office of county attorney again. He has made a most excellent officer and his record is an earnest of what he will do in the future. His capacity and his democracy are unquestioned.

WELL PRESERVED.—Mrs. W. S. Warren, of this place, who is in her 6th year, is probably the best preserved woman in the State and she can do more hard work now than most women who are not half as old. Besides doing all of her house work she weaves on an average 10 yards of carpet per day. She has woven enough carpet in Stanford to cover all the floors in Stanford and a great many of them are the fruit of her loom.

THE oligate raiders continue to get in their work in other counties, but we are gratified to say they have ceased their operations in this county. It is high time that they were forced to do so everywhere. Their acts are fast leading to anarchy and the next step will be repudiation and confiscation. The lawless element will not listen to reason, the whole country ought to rise up and put the scamps to flight or in prison.

AS Emmett Logan, of the Louisville Times, would say this is the wettest spring since Noah took that little voyage. It rains every day and more each succeeding day and if the land was six feet under water it could be as well tilled as now. More rain, stationary temperature is the best the signal service offers at present. A beautiful rainbow showed itself Tuesday afternoon, but even rainbows are no longer a promise of fair weather.

THE Waynesburg people are looking forward to a big time Decoration Day. The graves of a number of Masons who are buried at old Double Springs church will be decorated and at 11 o'clock there will be old time services at New Double Springs church. Some old preacher, who hasn't yet been decided on, will preach, only the older people will participate in the singing, no organ will be used and such songs as "Old Hundred" and the like will be sung. Later in the day the young people will hold services, which will be much more modern.

THE Southern Telephone Supply Company is getting down to business and proposes to begin the work for the Stanford Exchange about May 1. President B. T. Conway and Vice President C. B. Johnston, of Lebanon, were here yesterday soliciting subscriptions for instruments and met with much encouragement. The paper was left with Mr. Jesse D. Wearen, who will call on those not seen, for subscriptions. The company expects to make connection with such towns as may prove desirable and profitable to the subscribers.

THE suit to break the will left by the late Greenberry Bright was begun Tuesday morning and was on trial two days. A hundred or more witnesses were summoned, the contestants having by far the greater number. The attorneys for the contestants are Messrs. R. J. Breckinridge, Robert Harding, Felix G. Fox, and Graham Price and three for the contestants, Messrs. Hill & McRoberts and Col. W. G. Welch. The following jury was secured with very little trouble from the regular panel: D. C. Allen, G. D. McCarty, S. H. Gooch, J. C. Florence, B. F. Goode, J. E. Wright, W. H. Brady, W. P. Carson, Wm. Landgraf, Dink Farmey, C. C. Bishop and F. N. Sims.

The case came to an abrupt termination Wednesday afternoon, after the contestants had completed their side. Mr. Bright's attorneys moved for peremptory instructions to sustain the will and Judge Saufley gave them, stating to the jury that there was not the slightest evidence that the testator was not perfectly competent to make a will or that he was unduly influenced in making it. The contestants say they will take an appeal.

Garrard's tax rate has been reduced to 15c. Ours was increased two cents more than the entire tax rate there. Let's all move over the line.

NO. 168.—Buford Ellis, of color, has the unenviable reputation of having the biggest feet in Lincoln county. He wears No. 16 shoes and usually has a half dozen or more half soles nailed on them.

1. O. O. F. Hon. Milton J. Durham will make a public speech at the courthouse on "Odd Fellowship" Monday night, 26th, and in addition thereto a full program consisting of music, etc., is being arranged.

IT was reported here yesterday that a number of people at Crab Orchard saw the ship which left Chicago a few days ago. It is not known whether they had been to James' distillery or not.

LEBANON junction is on a boom. A new passenger depot has taken the place of the old shanty that used to serve the purpose there and scores of houses are being built by railroad men, many of whom still have property at Rowland. It is to be hoped that the glory of their new abode will not depart as quickly and as thoroughly as that of our deserted suburb.

ESCAPED.—Marshal Newland received a dispatch from Frankfort Wednesday stating that Will Evans and Chas. Lillard, both Negroes, had escaped from the penitentiary and were at large. Lillard is from Henderson. They sealed the wall and let themselves down by a rope made of fine cords of hemp. The public is pretty well acquainted with Evans, who was sent up for five years in June last for breaking into and stealing jewelry from B. H. Danks' show window. It will be remembered that he was located in Cincinnati by Will Lovelace, of this place, and that it was thought when he was brought here that he was implicated with his father, Dick Evans, in the Tate and Shanks steals, but the grand jury failed to indict him in these cases. Evans is a bad one and it is sincerely hoped that he will soon be captured and returned to the penitentiary. He is 22 years old, five feet, 91 inches high, has a scar on his left jaw bone and weighs 159 pounds. Lillard is 21, the same height of Evans, has a scar in the centre of his forehead and weighs 140.

LATER.—Their liberty was of short duration. A dispatch from Versailles says that both were captured in a barn near that city Wednesday.

RELIGIOUS.

Rev. G. H. Turner will preach at Walnut Flat at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M. next Sunday.

Rev. Wm. Crow has accepted a call to run for superintendent of schools in Madison county.

Owing to the absence of the pastor, there will be no preaching at the Presbyterian church Sunday.

Prayer meeting will be held at the Baptist church on Wednesday nights instead of Friday hereafter.

The contributions of the Baptists of the United States last year, as reported, were about $12,000,000.

I will preach at Preachersville on Sunday at 11 A. M. My subject, "The Resurrection." R. B. Mahony.

The Kentucky Sunday School Union report 1,032,197 white adults in this State not enrolled in any Protestant Sunday school.

Rev. J. B. McMillan, of Chattanooga, Tenn., has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Second Presbyterian church of Richmond.

The Southern Presbyterian foreign mission receipts for the year ending April 1, were $143,709.46, a gain over last year of $1,609.69.

News comes from Memphis that Rev. W. E. Ellis' church has called him for another year, with an increase of $300 salary, making the total $2,100.

Rev. W. T. Brooks will preach at Turnersville Sunday at the usual hours. High water prevented him from going to Arkansas as he had intended.

Elder J. T. Sharrard will preach at the Christian church Sunday morning; subject, "The Upward March of Nature and Society;" at night the young people's society will present "The Easter Story" in songs and recitations.

Evangelists Williams and Brown stopped at the Seminary for a brief visit Monday, on their way from Owensboro to Carrollton. The meeting at Owensboro resulted in 200 additions to the Baptist church.—Recorder.

The Baptist Year Book gives the names of 59 ministers

The ALMIGHTY CASH

meagre profits on the old prices and politely request that you give me a call before purchasing anything in my line.

Has made hard times vanish like the mist before the rising sun. It has bought for me, and will buy for you each and every article in my entire stock at prices that speak louder than words. Having bought my goods with the CASH when prices were at the lowest ebb, I am now able to offer many of them at what is now wholesale cost. In view of the coming tariff, all imported stuffs have advanced from 10 to 20 and even 30 per cent, since my stock was laid in, and I take this opportunity of notifying you that every dollar's worth of goods will be disposed of at the most

LOW PRICES MY SPECIALTY.

'Best Goods for the Least Money'

My Motto and the Golden Rule absolutely applied to every Customer.

In Dress Goods I have a few of the fanciest all wool patterns from 25c to 65c per yard. Blue and black Serges, all wool, from 25c to 75c per yard. The latter are special values, one and all.

A great variety of Trimmings, such as Velvets, Silks, Ribbons, Laces, etc. The prices of these goods suit the times.

All qualities, colors and prices of Silesias, Percalines, Cambrics, Rusteline, Canvases, Fiber, Crinoline and other of the latest Linings.

My line of Cotton Goods, such as Bleached and Brown Sheetings, Camlets, Gingham, Calicoes, Percalines and White Goods of every description, is very complete at present. I have more Percalines on hand than I ever had. Call in and see them. Samples freely given.

My Hamburgs and Laces embrace the latest creations of the oriental artists. Quite a variety in patterns, quality and width in both. Prices run from 2 to 75 cents.

The most fastidious will be pleased with the extensive line of Towels, Crash, Table Linens and Damask shown.

In Hosiery and Shoes, most anything anybody would want. I handle the noted Zeigler Bros. Shoes. For style, comfort, durability and price, they are superior to any other goods made.

Notions, such as Hair Pins, Ladies' White Linen and Fancy Collars, Pins, Needles, Kid Gloves, stamped Linens, Filo Silk, Crepe Paper, Leather Belts, Purses, Shirt Waist Sets, etc., in boundless profusion.

At present I am offering Neglige Shirts worth $1 at 85 cents and others wrth 72c at 60cts. By an honest trick in trade these were bought below their value and are offered the same way.

An extensive stock of softbosomed, fancy Shirts (the latest thing) I call special attention to. A full line of sizes always on hand.

The most noticeable feature about my CLOTHING is the fit, and the most striking characteristic is the low prices. If I can not fit you out of my stock, I can take your measure. Perfect fit, highest art and lowest prices always guaranteed.

Space will not permit a detailed description of my Wool and Straw Hats. But I will say from point of style, quality and price they are strictly up to date.

NOTICE.--HIDES, HAMS, FEATHERS, EGGS

And Poultry taken at cash market prices for goods.

WILLIAM H. SHANKS.

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

Becker Bros. Pianos,
Haines Bros. Pianos,
Ellington Pianos,
D. H. Baldwin Pianos, &
Fischer Pianos.
Estey Organs, Hamilton Organs and other Makers.
See my Goods and Get My Prices Before you Buy. 10 W. T. WHITE, Crab Orchard.

BRODHEAD.

Frith & Dunn have brought suit against the Oil Company at this place. The firm of Robins & Albright has dissolved, Mr. Albright buying Robins out.

Dr. Percy Benton is improving and was able to spend a few hours in town this week.

Mrs. Martha Albright is on the sick list. Mrs. Marion Hutchison is about well again.

The infant of Stephen and Peachy Adams died a few days ago. Buck Padgett's widow lost her baby girl Sunday night.

J. Thomas Cherry has opened up a branch store at Guin Sulphur, which will be a great convenience for the people of that section.

Mrs. Holman is preparing to have a big oyster supper on the night of the 24th and she expects her friends to be present and assist her in making the occasion a successful one.

The Rockcastle County Fair Association met and fixed Aug. 18-20 as the dates to hold the Fair and we are requested to say to the public that the directors expect to have a first-class exhibition this year.

J. Thomas Cherry is spending the week in Cincinnati and Miss Bertie Hilton, of Howland, and Mr. Watson are assisting Mrs. Cherry in visiting on their many customers. Mr. Harvey Dunn, our bustling merchant, spent a few days at Danville, his old home, last week.

The democrats of this county feel duty bound to offer to the people some good man to vote for for county judge and the other offices. Notwithstanding they feel that a democrat has no show to win, yet they as a party can't afford to allow these positions to be filled, as they have been in the past, without an earnest effort on their part to put better men in office, so that the blood of the martyrs may be required at the hands of those who are responsible for the condition of affairs in this county. We have a great many men who would fill the office of county judge with honor and do good work for the county and the people must have an opportunity of selection between some good, clever democrat and the present incumbent.

The town hall, Caldwell's livery stable, Crutcher & Vallandingham's general store, the bank building, Richards' dry goods store and several dwellings at Crittenden were burned. The loss will exceed $40,000, with less than $2,000 insurance.

Fourteen engineers on the Illinois Central railroad running into Paducah and several freight conductors were temporarily dismissed on account of dull business. What's the matter with the promised prosperity?

If President McKinley is unable to be present at the opening of the Tennessee Centennial Exposition he will attend later, but in any event he will put the machinery in motion.

Buffalo gnats are killing horses and cattle in Texas.

Hubble.

Elder George Gowen will preach at the Christian church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Dr. Klamain presented Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Shackelford with a fine girl, the first to bless their union, last Sunday.

Most everybody from this community is attending the struggle over the Bright will case in Stanford this week.

W. M. Hubble sold to Wm. Anderson some shorthorn heifers at 34c. Jos. Robinson has sold his lambs to Eph Woods at 5c for June delivery.

Our telephone connection with Lancaster and other neighboring towns is being more and more appreciated as it is used.

Hunter House is talking of selling out his goods business at Hedgeville and moving to Dix River to farm for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Minor, of Louisville, are visiting Ed Minor and family this week. Dr. Herring was called to see H. B. Cox, who has been poorly for some days with fever.

Messrs. Jas. Yeager and Jas. Aleorn went dipping on Dix River a few days ago, and hitched their mule on the bank of said river, when they returned their mule and buggy were gone, and they could see where it had gone down over the cliff into about 12 foot of water. No further trace could be seen except the hind wheels of the buggy some distance down the river in a deep hole.

CHEAP EXCURSION RATES TO NEW YORK CITY.—On account of the unveiling of the Grant monument in New York City, excursion tickets will be sold via the C. & O. Route at greatly reduced rates. Tickets will be sold good going April 23d to 26th inclusive, good to return leaving New York, until and including May 4th. The Chesapeake & Ohio is the only line passing within view of Gen. Grant's birthplace at Pleasant Point, Ohio, and the seminary at Maysville, Ky., where he received his early education and from which he went direct to West Point. The famous F. E. V. Limited leaving Lexington at 11:25 A. M. is the only modern electric lighted train running through to New York without change, serving all meals in Dining Car. Washington Express leaving Lexington at 8:35 P. M. connects in Washington the next afternoon with Congressional Limited. The scenery of the Chesapeake & Ohio particularly at this season of the year is more attractive than can be had along the line of any other rail road of equal extent in the world.

For the year 1897 I will furnish a better quality of material at closer prices than ever.

Studing and joist run through the planer and sized. One side—all season stock.

Boxing dressed

There are 5,717 Knights of Honor in Kentucky, who paid in $10,000.55 during the year and disbursed $14,421.78. In the 23 years of its existence the Knights of Honor have paid to widows and orphans $57,586.74.

The Remedy.

W. M. Ropin, editor of Hickory, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery in Consumption, Coughs and Colds. It is especially fit for consumption and will cure it surely until we are Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc. It is also of great service in consumption, even if it is not a cure. You just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. And it is not good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed to never fail to satisfy. Trivial bottle free at W. H. McElwain's Drug Store.

Send your address to H. E. Harklin & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are in action and will cure Malaria and Liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by any action, but by giving tone to stimulate and to wonderfully invigorate the system. Regular size 25c per box. Sold by W. H. McElwain, Drug Store.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All Druggists refund the money if it fails to Cure. For Druggist by W. H. McElwain, Drug & Barber and G. W. Penny, Druggists, Stanford, Ky.

MONEY TO LOAN, BONDS MADE &c.

Money to loan on improved city property or productive farms in Stanford and Lincoln county at 6 per cent., payable Semi-Annually. Also I will furnish bonds for public or corporation officials, Executives, Ministers, Clerks or Guardsmen, responsible agents, etc. Agent for the largest life insurance companies doing business in Kentucky and solicit patronage of property holders in Stanford. Rates same as other companies doing business here. W. H. McElwain, Agt.

STANFORD, KY.

JOHN. HASTELMAN, A. G. LASHAM.

ROYAL

INSURANCE COMPANY

OF LIVERPOOL.

FOUNDED 1805.

R. B. MAHONY, Agt.

STANFORD, KY.

JOHN. HASTELMAN, A. G. LASHAM.

ROYAL

INSURANCE COMPANY

OF LIVERPOOL.

FOUNDED 1805.

R. B. MAHONY, Agt.

STANFORD, KY.

JOHN. HASTELMAN, A. G. LASHAM.

ROYAL

INSURANCE COMPANY

OF LIVERPOOL.

FOUNDED 1805.

R. B. MAHONY, Agt.

STANFORD, KY.

JOHN. HASTELMAN, A. G. LASHAM.

ROYAL

INSURANCE COMPANY

OF LIVERPOOL.

FOUNDED 1805.

R. B. MAHONY, Agt.

STANFORD, KY.

JOHN. HASTELMAN, A. G. LASHAM.

ROYAL

INSURANCE COMPANY

OF LIVERPOOL.

FOUNDED 1805.

R. B. MAHONY, Agt.

STANFORD, KY.

JOHN. HASTELMAN, A. G. LASHAM.

ROYAL

INSURANCE COMPANY

OF LIVERPOOL.

FOUNDED 1805.

R. B. MAHONY, Agt.

STANFORD, KY.

JOHN. HASTELMAN, A. G. LASHAM.

ROYAL

INSURANCE COMPANY

OF LIVERPOOL.

FOUNDED 1805.

R. B. MAHONY, Agt.

STANFORD, KY.

JOHN. HASTELMAN, A. G. LASHAM.

ROYAL

INSURANCE COMPANY

OF LIVERPOOL.

FOUNDED 1805.

R. B. MAHONY, Agt.

STANFORD, KY.

JOHN. HASTELMAN, A. G. LASHAM.

ROYAL

INSURANCE COMPANY

OF LIVERPOOL.

FOUNDED 1805.

R. B. MAHONY, Agt.

STANFORD, KY.

JOHN. HASTELMAN, A. G. LASHAM.

ROYAL

INSURANCE COMPANY

<b